Pine Valley water supply project

About this project

Unitywater is investing in new water infrastructure to support growth in the City of Moreton Bay and provide water security for the Upper Caboolture, Morayfield and Narangba communities.

The Pine Valley water supply project will deliver a new 15 megalitre (ML) reservoir and over 8 kilometres of water pipelines. The new water reservoir will be constructed within Unitywater-owned land near Jacko Place, Morayfield.

A map of the Pine Valley water supply project is included overleaf.

Design and construction

The project is in the detailed design phase and the project team is engaging with property owners along the location of the new underground water pipeline. Unitywater has conducted comprehensive planning to ensure the chosen pipeline location minimises impacts to the local community and the environment.

The chosen location for the underground water pipelines have been designed along existing road verges and within existing easements on private properties to minimise impact on the natural and built environment.

Unitywater is committed to minimising environmental impacts and reducing the need to clear vegetation where possible. If areas must be cleared to make way for infrastructure, native revegetation is planned as part of the project.

Supporting thriving communities

The new water infrastructure will support population growth in the City of Moreton Bay. Over the next two decades, major greenfield sites at Caboolture West, Morayfield South and Pine Valley will be the focus of urban development to accommodate more than 100,000 people.

Unitywater will continue to upgrade and invest in water infrastructure in a sustainable way to meet the demands of our growing region.
